Zerbst Mentioned for Chief of Police, Says Clay

REPORT CREATES
STIR AT MEETING
OF BUNCO PROBERS

Herbert Clay Offers to Furnish Name of His Informant, Privately, to Eugene R. Black.

ARGUMENT TO CLOSE
ON THURSDAY NIGHT

Waggoner and Al Martin Defended by Their Attorneys—Ewing Hit by Harvey Hill.

Announcement by Attorney Herbert Clay that he had heard a report Tuesday afternoon in Atlanta from a reliable source that plans were being considered to appoint Warden
Fred Zerbst, of the federal prison,
who will soon yield his place to a Harding appointee, as chief of police of Atlanta to succeed Chief James L. Beavers created a flutter of excitement at the "bunco probe" Tuesday night.

Attorney Harvey Hill chose Joe
Ewing as the butt of his sarcasm,
when he was speaking as attorney for Al Martin. He charged that the principal witnesses against Martin were produced by Ewing.

"Ewing is Hamlet in this drama,"
he declared. "He is a modern Sherlock Holmes, with an uncanny genius for getting evidence."

"Oh, shame, where is thy blush?
You'll never find it on the cheek
of Joe Ewing."

After Mr. Hill had concluded, adjournment was taken until 7:30 o'clock Thursday night, when Attorney Jones will speak in behalf of Lieutenant Shaw and Attorney Black will have the last say for the prosecution.

Mr. Clay made his statement in regard to the report Zerbst might be named police chief during his speech in defense of Detective Robert Waggoner. He had just praised the efficiency of Chief Beavers when he made public the rumor.

Attorney Eugene R. Black,
special counsel for the committee of 1,000, interrupted Mr. Clay.

"Where did you hear any report
that Zerbst is to be chief?" he asked.
Ready to furnish name.

"I was given that information by a man in whom I have confidence and I can furnish you his name privately if you want it," he replied.

Attempts to reach Warden Zerbst
over the phone Tuesday night were in vain.

Mr. Clay and Attorney Harvey Hill
were the first speakers at the session
Tuesday night. Mr. Clay charged that not "one iota of evidence" had been introduced at the hearing
against his client.

Attorney Hill spoke in defense of Councilman Al Martin, former chairman of the police committee of council. In his speech he reviewed the evidence offered against his client
and declared nothing had been brought out in the case to show that Martin was guilty of anything in connection with the charges made against him.

Herbert Clay speaks.
Herbert Clay, attorney for Bob Waggoner, opened the Tuesday night session with his argument.

When the last wreath had been placed the base was covered. In the next block can be seen the G. M. A. cadets, whose band helped furnish music for the occasion.

FOR LARGER NAVY
SENATE PROVIDES

Upper House Votes for 120,000 Personnel, Advocates of Economy Losing
All Along Line.

Washington, May 24.—The economy drive against the $495,000,000
naval appropriation bill was shattered in the senate today when mainly increases recommended by the naval committee were adopted.
By a vote of 45 to 23 the senate
adopted a committee amendment opposed vigorously by the economy
forces, providing for a personnel of 120,000 men as against 100,000 authorized by the house. Afterward, in quick succession and without demands from the economy advocates
for roll calls, committee amendments calling for increases aggregating about $15,500,000 were approved.

The roll call on the navy personnel apparently broke the attack of senators who have been fighting to overturn the increases
recommended by the naval committee. The way also was paved for passage of the bill tomorrow
or Thursday after prospective
adoption of the Borah amendment
for a disarmament conference.

Many Restore Items.
There were reports today of negotiations looking to restoration of appropriations for a new Pacific coast base at Alameda, Cal., and for continuing dry dock and dredging projects at Charleston, S. C.

Whether these negotiations flared in the vote today sustaining the committee increases was not disclosed.

Party lines were broken in the vote on fixing the naval personnel at 120,000. Thirteen republicans voted to hold the personnel to 100,000, but the loss of these republicans to the committee provisions was offset by fourteen democrats who voted to keep 120,000 men in the navy.

Among the committee increases adopted were $15,377,000 for pay of personnel, $5,800,000 for reserve
forces, $8,782,000 for provisioning, $7,500,000 for fuel and its transportation, and $5,000,000 for marine corps quartermaster's corps. Nearly all of these increases were bound

Afternoon Game of Bobby
Atlanta Golfer Now Americans' Best Chance
Styled as Magnificent

BY BERNARD DARWIN.
(Copyright, 1921, for The Constitution.)

Hoylake, May 24.—(Special.)—
This has been a real bad day for America. There has been one sad piece of international warfare, for the steady, imperturbable veteran, W. C. Fownes, knocked out of the game of the American side in "Chick" Evans. Francis Ouimet was "knocked out" and so was Jesse Guilford.
"Bobby" Jones escaped by the skin
of his teeth. However, he recovered his form brilliantly in the afternoon and lives to fight another day. J.
J. Wright survives, but as ill luck will have it, he and Fownes will have to battle one another to pieces tomorrow morning. So things certainly do not look as bright as they did before.

There was presented a very curious psychological phenomenon
today. On Saturday the Americans were as cold as ice and the Britons were palpably nervous. Yesterday they walked through with ease but today they seemed to have a fit of nerves.

Morning Round.
Anything so appalling as Jones'
play this morning I never have beheld. It would be generous to him to say he went around under ninety.
He kept his long game, but his iron shots and putting were shocking.

His opponent, E. A. Hamlet, is not in the least a good player. He is very short and not a good iron player or putter. If he could have played at all, Jones must have gone.
But then maybe it can be argued that if Hamlet had been good Jones would have played better. At any rate, he pulled himself together on the last two holes and won them
manfully.

His lunch did him all the good in the world, for in the afternoon he walked all over Robert Harris, one of our best golfers, who has been a finalist in the championship. In this game "Bobby" was magnificent. Harris never had a chance and lost by 6 and 5. After this there was nothing to say but that golf is a funny game.

How Ouimet Lost.
Francis Ouimet lost to Hodgson,
of Ballidon, the Yorkshire champion,
who is a good rather than a great player. Hodgson knows the game and has played it since boyhood.
He has heaps of grit. He drove straight nearly always, but was

IRELAND SEETHES
ON ELECTION DAY

Extreme Tension Seen in Ulster as the Contending Factions Rush Voters to Polls.

Belfast, May 24.—The whole of Ulster, which has been seething with excitement all day long over the election of candidates to the new parliament which only unionists
will attend, if they secure the necessary majority,—a foregone conclusion—is a regular babel this evening, with extreme tension in some quarters. From early morning it has been the task of the workers of the unionists, nationalists and Sinn Féiners to get every one of their supporters to the polls, with the result that there has been an unprecedented rush of motor cars
through the streets and haranguing
of voters, raising passions to fever heat.

In all sections where protestants
and Catholics live side by side there have been "incidents" which required the attention of the police.
Bally Maccarret, despite the fact that Catholics were largely driven from their homes last July, proved to be the hottest corner of the city.

Both Parliaments
Now in Force.
London, May 24.—With the Ulster
elections concluded both the north and the south of Ireland will have their own parliaments, recognized of the British government, and a peculiar feature of the situation is that the defiant anti-ireland, or rebel southern parliament, is the recognized parliament as well. Its leader, Eamon de Valera, will be recognized as the spokesman of
the recognized parliament.

Although Sinn Féin remains adherent in its refusal to permit its elected representatives function
as the southern parliament, is the members, being elected through processes prescribed by the act, will be regarded as the spokesmen of
the recognized parliament.

Owing to the fact that De Valera now wears the title—unwill-ingly—of leader of the official southern parliament, any future negotiations between him and Sir James Craig, the Ulster leader, will have official standing. It will be assumed that each speaks for his own government.

Child Orphaned
By Double Killing
To Get Good Home

Confidence Expressed by Father Before Death Justified
by Developments.

The confidence expressed by James W. Wadsworth in the death
note he penned before he killed his wife and then turned the same pistol on himself, that God would provide a safety and a refuge for their slain child, has been justified. Little 14-month-old John William Wadsworth, who saw the whole tragic business of Monday afternoon at 407
Courtland street, will be taken care of by either the family of the slain
mother or that of the brain-tortured father.

And there will be no family feud
or lawsuit or quarrel about the possession of the baby, either. W. C.
Wadsworth, of Hartsville, S. C., a brother of the dead man, and J. D.
King, the father of the slain wife,
have lost whatever bitterness might have been in their hearts as a result of the tragedy in a wealth of sympathy and love for the smiling
little boy, who remained cooling
and crowing in that house of death,
while a coroner's jury decided on a formal verdict according to the laws of Georgia, that the mother had been slain, that the father was the slayer, and that he, in turn, had taken his own life.

The inquest was held Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock by Paul Dugheo, coroner of Fulton county,
at the funeral parlors of Donehue & Bazemore. After the verdict had been returned the members of the family took up the question of the future of John William. "We'd be mighty glad to take him and give him a good home," said the brother of the suicide. "My wife and myself can care for him, and would love to," said the grandfather.

"We won't have any trouble about it," said King. "The thing I want is for the baby to have a good home and a chance to grow up to be a good man."

That's what we want, said the grandfather.

The family decided to leave the question in abeyance until after the funeral, details of which have not been arranged yet.

Members of each family were likewise unable to account for Wadsworth's act, the only explanation being offered was that he had been suddenly seized with a homicidal mania.

POINCARE LOOMS
AS NEW PREMIER
OF FRANCE JUNE 1

Aristide Briand May Remain Temporarily on Small Majority and Only
as on Probation.

OVERTHROW SEALED
SHOULD HE FALTER

Debate in French Chamber Assumes Atmosphere
and Aspect of Prizefight.
Next Meet Wednesday.

BY JUDSON HAWLEY.

(United News Staff Correspondent.)
Paris, May 24.—Aristide Briand, weakened by attacks on all sides,
opposition from the direct-action-
ists, ridicule from the socialists,
may remain as premier of France,
but it will be by a smaller majority, and on probation only.

Already, as a result of the day's debate in the chamber, where the little Breton premier fought for his policies until sheer exhaustion forced him to lean upon the speaker's tribune, former President Raymond Poincare looms up on the horizon as "the next premier."

It is apparently the consensus of the chamber that Briand should be permitted to remain until June 1,
when Germany is due to pay twelve billion gold marks, and if then Bri-
and falters in ordering an advance
into the Ruhr, if Germany is delinquent, his overthrow is a foregone conclusion.

Between Two Factions.
Briand, during this debate, seemed to range himself between two factions, not catering sufficiently to France's distrust of Great Britain,
nor yet to the war-cemented hatred
of Germany. And he was still condemned by the socialists because he dared call the class of 1919 to the colors.

Briand summed up the results of his policy as "Germany's acceptance of the role of the vanquished people, and acknowledgment of the class debt."

"Isn't it something that we have obtained that by showing force and without having to employ it?" he asked.

In a heated tilt with Andre Tar-dieu, the premier denied having instructed Dubouix, the socialist member of the relations commission,
to recede from the original indemnity figures.

"Dubouix preferred to accept a much lower figure rather than to diminish our authority in the future," he declared.

The chamber adjourned until Wednesday without voting, after the listening disinterestedly to an interpretation by Vincent Auriol, socialist.

Even Tired Men on Cars
Gladly Give Up Seats
to Women.

BY L. F. WOODRUFF.
Henry W. Grady's spirit was abroad in Atlanta yesterday and the sentence isn't written to convey an idea of any occult communication between this workaday world and that brighter existence to which his soul departed.

But whether unconsciously or not the people of Atlanta kept the ideals of Grady very close to themselves
throughout the afternoon, and maybe unconsciously they were striving to live up to them.

Shortly after the exercises at the monument, I boarded a street car.
It was an hour when the traction service is normally crowded to capacity with bourgeois, busy all day, hurrying home to their evening meals, bearing packages.

Loosening the ties of the city has progressed in population and industries it has lost something of its old ideals—the ideals of Grady. Atlantians still take off their hats when ladies enter elevators. They generally do it with an air of announced reluctance, the air of a man taking a pill. Atlantians are still supposed to yield their seats to ladies on street cars, but Atlantians
have come to realize that if you don't see a lady standing, you can keep your seat, and Atlantians have become abnormally interested in familiar scenery and old editions of newspapers.

Particularly is this true in the

SPEECH OF OCCASION
MADE BY J. H. ATWOOD

Chamber Passes Resolutions Asking All Atlanta
to Join in Making Celebration Annual Event.

BY PAUL WARWICK.

Ten thousand hearts beat faster
for Atlanta, for Georgia, for the south and for these United States of America Tuesday afternoon when a multitude gathered at the monument of Henry Woodfin Grady to pay new tribute to his life and deeds. Tuesday, May 24, was the anniversary of his birth—in the year 1850. He died in '89, young in years, old in accomplishment.

The traffic at the busy intersection of Forsyth and Marietta was stopped, and the place of the accustomed bustle and hurry of vehicles and pedestrians there was a still throng of thousands who had come to do their Grady honor. The ceremonies were simple, flowers being placed in abundance enough to conceal the entire base of the shaft.
When the speaker of the occasion,
John H. Atwood, prominent attorney of Kansas City, Mo., mounted the improvised rostrum, the monument of Grady was cascaded with wreaths; a snow storm of blossoms
seemed to have chosen the stone
for its resting place and banked
about the base and up the sides until flowers fell away in sweet profusion.

Americanism is Keynote.

Americanism was the keynote of Mr. Atwood's address, but it was not the Americanism of the day from so many stump speakers and corner orators. It was the Americanism of logic, of tradition and of Grady. The south is the cradle of that quality, declared the orator of the occasion, and the day will come when the solid patriotism of the south must balance the whims and unrest of the country. Mr. Atwood appealed for a new infusion of brotherhood in the land and declared clashes between interest and justice.

Wise was the head that decided simplicity would mean impressiveness.
There was nothing ostentatious
about the exercises, no hollow glorifying. The address was entirely suited. The speaker's words had in them the understanding of secular agreement that Grady would have admired; there were flights of fancy, but they were solidly founded and not meaningless. The very platform itself carried out the ideal of a simple page of tribute. It did not clutter the scene with the semi-circle of dignitaries. The speakers of the state and the mayor of the town kept their places in the crowd, Lee Ashcraft, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, who introduced the speaker, and Mr. Atwood were the only occupants of the platform.

Expectancy and relief are the two biggest elements in the psychology of crowds such as this. The

ARMY COMMANDS TO CHANGE SOON

BY ROBERT J. BENDER, United News Staff Correspondent. Washington, May 24.—During the next six weeks numerous changes will occur in important commands within the United States army.

On July 1, General Pershing assumes active direction of the dual work of chief of staff and head of the newly created general headquarters. Between now and July 1, also, new assignments to command of some of the most important posts in the army will be made, unusually important because of the international situation.

In the first place, General Harbord, now in command of troops on the Mexican border, will be succeeded in command of those forces because of the fact that on July 1, he comes to Washington as chief executive to Chief of Staff Pershing. Harbord will, in reality, be chief of staff because Pershing is to devote most of his time to forming the skeleton general headquarters organization which will be built so as to permit of easy and rapid expansion in event of war.

The Mexican border assignment today is an important one because of the uncertainty existing in the Mexican situation and it may be assumed that the officer in command of the border will be an officer trained and experienced in active service.

Of no less importance, because of the international situation, will be the new assignment of the command of American forces on the Hawaiian Islands and to the post of western division commander. Both of these commands will be open by July 1, General Liggett, now commanding the western division, having reached the retirement age and the Hawaiian post, like the Panama canal zone post, being a post of date because the present command has completed his allotted term of service in insular duty. General Cronkite has been assigned to the Hawaiian post, and General Cronkite has been assigned to the Hawaiian post, and General Cronkite has been assigned to the Hawaiian post.

Still another important assignment will have to be filled soon as a result of General Wood's intention to leave his present command of the division forces with headquarters at Chicago. That post will be open soon after Wood returns from his assignment in Europe. There now investigating conditions for the war and state departments.

Generally speaking, it has been indicated by Secretary of War Weeks, the new headquarters organization and the selection of General Pershing as chief of staff will not result in any tremendous shakings. There will, however, be many changes in commands because of the fact that numerous officers now on staff positions in Washington have exhausted the time allotted them away from troops and soon must be back to troops.

Because of the Mexican and Japanese situations the most important assignments naturally will be those to the border, to the Hawaiian Islands and to the western division with headquarters at San Francisco. It is neither the intention of Pershing nor Secretary of War Weeks to organize a highly specialized nucleus about which might be created promptly, in event of war, a reserve training during the summer and in other ways keeping ready for the duty he would be called upon in event of war, namely, taking active command of the American forces in the field.

MACON MAN CLEARED OF CHARGE OF THEFT

Macon, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—P. E. Clark, former cashier for Burden, Smith & Co., a local department store, was today acquitted in Bibb superior court of a charge of embezzlement. Clark was charged with appropriating to his own use funds paid into his hands for his employees.

He admitted his accounts were short, but contended it was due to an error in accounting and not to any intention of his to steal.

Bread Question Puzzles Bakers; Unable to Agree

Can't Decide Standards of Quality or Weight of Loaf.

BY RALPH H. TURNER, United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, May 24.—On the outskirts of Washington, where the bureau of standards has removed itself from the annoyances of downtown political life, a group of scientists, aided by a few master bakers, is wrestling with the question: Shall the American housewife, when she buys a loaf of bread, be guaranteed the weight of that loaf? And if so, how?

The occasion for it all is the fourteenth annual conference on weights and measures. Bread weight legislation is but one phase of the conclave, but no other topic is arousing greater discussion.

The trouble seems to be that while the bread loaf can be standardized as to weight, no system has been devised for insuring the quality of the daily bread.

Speaking from the baker's standpoint, H. E. Barnard, director of the American Institute of Baking, explained:

"The consumer can get a pound of alleged bread which will do her absolutely no good, or she can get the same weight of the most nourishing food in the world. Between these extremes there are innumerable variations, for which no system of accurate standards has ever been devised."

This view was supported by William F. Cluett, inspector of weights and measures in Chicago. Cluett pointed out that while nearly every state legislature was attempting to regulate the weight of a bread loaf—very few of these measures said anything about the merits of the loaf.

The baker's spokesman declared that the regulation of weight frequently would operate against the housewife. Declines or increases in the price of flour, he said, should be reflected in the retail trade by the size of the loaf, explaining that if the price of flour should make a fifth of a cent increase in the production cost of a loaf of bread, the baker would have to add a whole cent to the retail cost. The housewife would be spared this raise, he said, if the baker were allowed to slightly reduce the weight of his loaf.

Not Agreed on Question. "The bakers are not agreed that bread should be sold at standard weight," said Barnard, "but they all think the consumer should get what he pays for."

This could be done, he added, by permitting the bakers to produce any size loaf, but enforce them to stamp the weight on the package. Cluett countered:

"When the increase in cost of ingredients amounts to less than half a cent per loaf, no change should be made in the selling price; if the increase is one-half cent or more, then let the bakers raise the price one full cent."

"If the baker is allowed to tell us the exact quality, weight and price of our bread," Cluett continued, "it will be only a short time before other dealers try to regulate the quality, price and amount of what we eat and wear."

No one proposed solution of the problem by the suggestion that the housewife bake her own bread.

HOSPITAL OFFICIALS IN MACON RESIGN JOBS

Macon, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—The disagreement of long standing between Mayor Glen Toole and regular members of the board of commissioners of the Macon hospital culminated tonight in the resignation of three members of the hospital board, the superintendent of the hospital, the nurses training school, and four members of the superintendent's staff. The resignations of the superintendent and her assistants are effective June 9, two days following the graduating exercises for the nurses of the institution.

The three hospital commissioners who resigned are Orville A. Park, Charles B. Lewis and John A. Streyer. Miss Julia A. Clark, the superintendent, and Misses Ora E. Riggs, Theresa Witford, Florence Higgins and Eva Levasseur are her assistants.

As the hospital situation stands at the present moment, Mayor Glen Toole is in supreme control. He is said to be planning to make R. L. Smith, vice chairman of the city council, the representative of that body on the hospital board, and to take charge of the nursing staff of the Macon hospital. This information reached Miss Clark, the superintendent, through a nursing agency which inquired why she was giving up her position.

The meeting of the hospital commission this evening, the ex-officio members of the board voted the regular members of the board on the proposition of accepting as members of the executive committee of the hospital the names of the three doctors submitted by the Macon Medical society, the names having previously been approved at a meeting on April 11.

Don't Know His Brother. "My brother got so bad with stomach and liver trouble that when I saw him after a year, I didn't know him. He was emaciated and yellow as a pumpkin and was often in great pain. He couldn't have lived long the way he was going. Doctors and medicine gave him no relief. I picked up a little booklet on May 10, 'Wonderful Remedy,' which he said described his case perfectly. The first dose of it gave him great relief and in a month he was good as ever." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Opposition to the three men is said to have been based on the ground that they are connected with private hospitals here. The three ex-officio members of the board are Mayor Toole, R. L. ## BEN HILL SCHOOLS ARE CONSOLIDATED

Fitzgerald, May 24.—(Special.)—The next school year will see the most radical changes of many years in rural education in Ben Hill county as a result of two school consolidation projects and a special local tax levy authorized by popular vote in two enlarged school districts which will add approximately $7,000 to the county school funds. Patrons of the Paulk and Lula-

ville one-teacher schools authorized the consolidation of those two districts with the Lynwood district, and patrons of Horton and Dorminy schools authorized consolidation with Ashton school. A small consolidation was that of the Eureka and Evergreen districts. John Stuart Mill, the famous philosopher, began to learn Greek when he was three, and could read Latin and Greek easily at eight. ### HOUSE TO CONSIDER PACKER BILL SOON

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON,
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 24.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—The house will take up the packer bill at once, as there is evidence that the two branches of congress are to get together on some compromise measure and pass it within a month. Republican leader Mondell, announcing the plans of the house to take up the packer bill, said the legislation had come from the house agriculture committee with a unanimous favorable report, but the report should not be understood as indicating there did not exist a difference of opinion among the members of the committee as to certain provisions of the bill.

The house bill creates no new commission to handle the packer regulatory legislation, but throws the work on the department of agriculture as far as it applies to the meat packing and live stock industry and on the interstate commerce commission in regulating the plant facility railroads.

The senate bill creates a live stock commission under the jurisdiction of the secretary of agriculture to handle the packing business and divides other features of the proposed regulation of packer railroads, stock yards and facilities between the interstate commerce commission and the federal trade commission.

PRESBYTERIANS DELAY SELECTING UNIVERSITY SITE

Greenfield, Mo., May 24.—Selection of a location for the proposed new Cumberland Presbyterian university was postponed by the general assembly today. The assembly voted to take no action at present in order to give cities bidding for the institution more time to prepare full and adequate proposals.

The Rev. J. E. Cortner, of Dyersburg, retiring moderator, led the movement to delay action on the proposition. He contended that no city had made an offer of sufficient worth to begin the building of the proposed school and that the offer made were out of proportion to the endowment raised.

The judiciary committee was prepared today to submit a report on the question of granting women the right of ordination under the constitution. The majority report favored the proposed amendment, but a minority report also was returned indicating that opposition would develop on the floor of the assembly.

SHIPPING BOARD EXPECTS TO BUY MANY TANKERS

Washington, May 24.—Bids for the purchase of 20 steel and eight concrete tankers will be opened June 10, it was announced tonight by the shipping board. The steel tankers range from 1,200 to 3,381 deadweight tons and the concrete ships from 6,798 to 7,500 deadweight tons. Most of the vessels offered for sale are of the type known as "Liberty ships."

The 28 tankers are approximately one-third of the merchant marine tanker fleet and represent the surplus government tanker tonnage. Board officials explained. Because of the depression in the shipping situation most of them are not in operation, they added, and the 40 or more tankers which will comprise the permanent fleet are regarded as the maximum necessary for the board's needs.

New York, May 24.—Ladies' eye-lashes have become salable articles. The dressing table in milady's boudoir may now be adorned, in addition to numerous other things, that artificial lashes that paste on right over the regular ones.

This innovation in feminine attractiveness was on display here today at the American Ladies' Hair Dressing association exhibition. Other nature savers included a half bobbed wig to cover old-fashioned long hair, thus relieving the necessity of cutting it. A parable in moving picture form was shown, demonstrating how a wife, who had lost her husband's affection, regained it by rejuvenating her rose petal cheeks.

U. S. TO ENFORCE PANAMA DECISION

Failure of Little Republic to Settle Boundary Dispute May Bring Sharp Action.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON, Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 24.—(By Constitution Bureau.)—The patience of this government which was expressed in the ultimatum to Panama, due to the latter's failure to name a date for fixing the boundary between Panama and Costa Rica, is about exhausted and the United States will take steps in a few days to see that the White-Loubet award is enforced.

American vessels have been stationed on both sides of Panama since the first hint of trouble between the two Central American nations. They are ready to carry out at once any orders that may come from Washington designed to turn over to Costa Rica the territory awarded to that country. Panama has been given an opportunity to take this action voluntarily by the United States.

The jurisdiction exercised by Panama in the disputed territories in accordance to its lowest terms, very primitive conditions prevailing in those regions, and there are very few Panamanian officers. The country is largely unsettled, and it is asserted that the transference of jurisdiction can be consummated without any great difficulty. It is understood that American engineers are available in the vicinity of Panama for marking the boundaries.

A Panama commission is on its way to Washington, having been dispatched ostensibly for the purpose of trying to persuade this government to reconsider its determination to enforce the application, if necessary, of the Loubet and White awards.

The United States would act as the guarantor of Panama's independence, Secretary Hughes having informed the Panama government on May 2 that America's duty to guarantee and maintain the independence of Panama requires it to inquire into the merits of any controversies relating to the boundaries of Panama and obliges it to assure itself that the government of Panama faithfully performs its international obligations.

It has been indicated authoritatively that the position of this government, so defined, is unalterable, and that the coming here of special commissioners will not affect it in any way.

Debts of Allies May Be Placed With U. S. People

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON, Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 24.—(By Constitution Bureau.)—The allied indebtedness to the United States may ultimately be placed in the hands of the American people instead of continuing as an obligation to the government, and this by a process of retiring Liberty and Victory bonds by paying for them with foreign obligation paper.

That is the plan in the mind of the president as prominent party leaders and financiers interpret his remarks in New York last night while speaking at the New York commercial dinner.

In that address he said: "The exigencies of war compelled the government to take by taxation much wealth from our people to be loaned to our allies. This is the basis of their obligations to us, and it is not a good form in which to hold the obligations and distribute them among all the people. We hope this may be accomplished."

S. rotary Mellon and other treasury department officials are holding informal conversations with the British ambassador regarding the refunding of the British loan. The loans to the allies, totaling approximately $10,000,000,000, were advanced in the form of demand loans and must be refunded into time obligations. In the refunding process it is not improbable, according to reliable information, that some plan may be considered by which the time obligations of foreign nations will be used to retire the obligations of the American government to the American people.

NEW BATTLESHIP FOR PACIFIC FLEET

Washington, May 24.—The superdreadnaught Tennessee, which recently completed all final tests satisfactorily and has been accepted by the navy department, will leave soon to join the Pacific fleet. It was announced at the department today. Captain Richard High is in command.

The Tennessee is an oil-burning, electric-driven vessel mounting twelve 14-inch guns in the main battery.

It was also indicated today that the new dreadnaughts California and Maryland will be assigned to the Pacific fleet when completed. The California will be commissioned this summer at San Francisco, and the Maryland, which is under construction at Newport News, Va., will be commissioned in about a year.

ASKS EXPLANATION OF HARVEY SPEECH

Washington, May 24.—Ambassador Harvey's Pilgrim dinner speech in London came in for further congressional attention today. Representative Flood, democrat, Virginia, introducing a resolution proposing to ask Secretary Hughes if certain statements attributed to the ambassador were "official utterances" delivered by the department.

Mr. Flood wanted to know particularly whether Mr. Harvey was voicing the sentiments and policies of the United States government when he was quoted as having said that "the declaration that a war between England and the United States has ceased to be conceivable is no more than an assumption." Or, again, when he said, "not a few remain convinced we sent our young soldiers across to save this kingdom, France and Italy. That is not a fact. We sent them solely to save the United States of America, and most reluctantly and laggedly at that." Also when he said "We were too proud to fight, whatever that may mean. We were afraid not to fight."

A specific bill which Senator Dial supported as a remedial measure was his bill to amend the law relating to performance of future contracts. It would give the seller as well as the buyer the right to regulate spot prices and place sellers at a disadvantage in buying.

The committee deferred action on Senator Dial's bill.

LABOR SPOKESMAN RAPS SALES TAX

Washington, May 24.—"Indignation meetings will be held every city, town and village in the country," a protest against the sales tax if it is adopted, the senate finance committee was told today by Edward F. McGrady, who said he was calling for Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. The federation has taken a position against the sales tax.

Five millions of the new idle and many other millions of those whose wages have been reduced from 25 to 60 per cent are now to be called on to assume the added burden," he said. "Big business is now attempting to shift the burden of the war and the cost of the government from their shoulders to the backs of the working men and women."

Mr. McGrady declared housewives would join with organized labor in opposing the sales tax and added that "their verdict will be final." He said it might require some time to awaken the country to the issue, but predicted that the consumers, once aroused, would not permit Congress to compel them to go down into their pockets to pay the government's way.

Those who have to count their pennies will send up a mighty roar of protest," he said. "They will refuse to submit to such taxation."

COMMITTEE WILL FIX IMMIGRATION TOTALS

Washington, May 24.—A committee to fix the numbers of immigrants to be permitted to land here from each country under the per centage bill just enacted was named today by Secretary Hughes.

It consists of two representatives of each department. The representatives of the department of state will concern themselves with the matter of geographical distribution of immigrants, the department of labor representatives will deal directly with the matter of immigration, while the representatives of the department of commerce, under which the census bureau is placed, will have to do with matters pertaining to the allotment of immigration based upon the three per cent limit under the 1910 census.

The committee must, under the law, credit to countries to which territory has been added since 1910 a proportionate number of immigrants deducting the same number from the countries which have lost the territory.

The committee consists of H. A. MacBride, chief of the visa section and Major Lawrence Martin, division of western European affairs, of the department of state, William C. Hunt, chief statistician for population, and Dr. J. A. Hill, chief statistician for review and results, of the department of commerce; Ethelbert Stewart, commissioner of labor statistics, and W. W. Husband, commissioner general of immigration, of the department of labor.

ATTEMPTS TO CUT FUND TO DEVELOP U. S. EXPORTS FAIL

Washington, May 24.—Unsuccessful attempts were made in the house today to eliminate from the deficiency appropriations provisions for expenditure by the department of commerce of $250,000 for development of foreign trade and a like amount for assistance to domestic industries. Opposition to the item came chiefly from democrats through points of order, which were quickly ruled.

Chairman Good, of the appropriations committee, urging retention in the bill of the $250,000 item for assistance to export industries on the ground that America's foreign trade was facing a crisis. Secretary Hoover, he said, had informed the committee foreign trade had fallen off 50 per cent during the past six months and that there was urgent need of government assistance.

Representative Byrns, democrat, Tennessee, supported the appropriation and declared it should have been authorized several years ago. Republicans, during the Wilson administration, he charged, blocked such an allowance. He predicted that Secretary Hoover, if given an opportunity would greatly improve foreign commerce.

MASKED MEN FLOG ALLEGED ATTACKER

Dallas, Texas, May 24.—J. T. Moore, 30 years old, arrested Saturday in connection with an attack upon a young girl, was taken by a party of masked men late last night to a secluded spot near the city and flogged. The two men were taken back with a whip, according to a report to the police today.

After his punishment Moore was returned to the city and, elected from an automobile into a crowd of persons in the heart of the business section. He was warned to leave Dallas.

A party of masked men called at the home of a local newspaper reporter shortly before 11 o'clock and requested him to accompany them, though giving no intimation of what was to take place. The automobile was taken out of the city to the West Dallas pike where it was joined by a second car. The two then proceeded to a lonely spot where Moore was forced out and after being stripped of his waist and tied to a tree, the whipping was administered. Moore's whereabouts was not known today.

South Carolinian Would Revise Law On Cotton Futures

Washington, May 24.—Revision of the Lever cotton future trading law in the interest of cotton producers was advocated today before the senate agriculture committee by Senator Dial, South Carolina, a cotton planter and mill owner. He declared the law did not work "most easily" and added: "I'm surprised that it has been allowed to remain on the statute books."

Senator Dial produced figures to show that through speculative future trading in one year there had been sold on the cotton exchange eight times the total cotton production of the country. The senator said that he was not attacking the exchanges, but he said that future speculative trading should not be allowed to affect the prices of spot cotton. He expressed doubt whether maintenance of exchanges was necessary to the cotton trade.

A specific bill which Senator Dial supported as a remedial measure was his bill to amend the law relating to performance of future contracts. It would give the seller as well as the buyer the right to regulate spot prices and place sellers at a disadvantage in buying.

The committee deferred action on Senator Dial's bill.

RIOTING REPORTED BY PORT WORKERS

Buenos Aires, May 24.—A number of persons are reported to have been killed or wounded during fighting today in the Port zone when union laborers attempted to prevent non-union workers from unloading ships. Revolvers were used during the fighting and firing continued in the affected region this afternoon.

According to officials of the labor protective association, which sent the non-union men into the port zone on the basis of government guarantees that free labor would not be excluded in unloading ships, the police did not interfere in the fighting.

Late this afternoon the association sent a committee to the government authorities demanding protection for the non-union workers.

DECIDES ON BASIS FOR RAIL PAY CUT

Chicago, May 24.—The rates of pay and classification established by the railroad labor board's wage award of July, 1920, will be used as the basis of reductions when the board hands down its new wage decision on June 1, it was learned today. The board has arrived at tentative percentages, which will cut the present rates from 10 to 15 per cent, according to class of employees affected.

When the wage reduction decision is made next week, it will follow closely the form of decision number two, which granted the $600,000,000 increase a year ago. The classifications of employees will remain nearly the same, some slight changes being made in certain clerical divisions.

No estimate of the number of employees affected nor of the total slice in the railroads' payroll has yet been made by the board, but figures discussed in railroad circles place the cut at between $350,000,000 and $400,000,000. Employees of nearly 100 roads will be included in the board's decision of June 1, and it was said that the percentage of reduction for each class of labor would be uniform for all roads.

Annual Celebration For Grady Planned By Atlanta Chamber

Moultrie, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)

A gun battle between John Gay, a farmer of the Warrior district, and three Mercer brothers near Ellen-ton this morning was described this afternoon by Gay, who came to Moultrie to secure treatment for Wheeler and George Mercer, he a rifle wound in his hip. Gay was also suffering from several bird shot wounds, but his condition is not serious.

According to his statement, he was fired upon while in the woods near his place, driving up some cattle. His assailants were Charlie, George and John Mercer. Gay said the gun battle was fought at a distance of about one hundred yards, Gay said.

He claimed he was fired upon several times, declaring that the Mercers were armed with rifles, shot guns and pistols. Gay said it was not until after he had been struck by the rifle bullet that he drew his shotgun, which was loaded with buckshot. Gay said that he did not know whether any of his shots found their marks, but added that he heard "a howl of pain raised down in the woods."

Gay said that the trouble was the outgrowth of an "old grudge" between his family and the Mercers. It was when he passed near the Mercer home driving his cattle that he was fired on, he said. Gay, just before leaving for home, said that he would come back to Moultrie tomorrow and secure warrants against the Mercer brothers.

HEARINGS ARE ENDED IN BERGDOLL PROBE

Washington, May 24.—House committee hearings in the investigation of the escape of a prisoner from the Federal Reformatory for Women at Alderson, Md., ended today.

The principal witness heard at the closing session was Charles A. Braun, a brother of the sucker, who testified he had changed his name because of his brother's escapades and that he knew nothing of the escape or of any bribe paid to search for which the prisoner was released under guard. Braun asserted that his brother was lacking in physical courage and strongly pro-German, adding that a recent letter from Braun to his mother was so antagonistic to this country that it threw it away.

Mobile, Ala., May 24.—The convention of the American Railway Surgeons opened here this morning with an exceptionally large attendance, beginning sessions that will continue for three days.

Shortly after the convention was called to order this morning, an alumnus was taken while delegates visited the tomb of Dr. Henry T. Inge, former president of the association, which they decorated with carnations. Business sessions will be held today and Wednesday, while on Thursday the delegates and their families will go to Coden, a seashore resort, for an all-day outing.

LIQUOR CAR DRIVER SOUGHT BY POSSE

Cherokee Bailiff Killed and Sheriff Wounded in Capture of Auto-Slayer Is Held.

Canton, Ga., May 24.—(Special.) A large and heavily armed posse is seeking a white man who escaped from a liquor loaded automobile prior to the killing of Bailiff Charles Loggins, of Canton, and the wounding of Sheriff Floyd Blackwell, of Cherokee county, when the officers halted the car early Tuesday morning at Franklin's gold mine, a short distance from here.

The other occupant of the car, a man giving his name as F. H. Daniel, of Garnett street, Atlanta, is held as the slayer. Police in Atlanta are seeking W. A. Daniel, said to be a brother of the slayer.

Four prohibition enforcement officers were Tuesday morning sent from their headquarters in Atlanta to aid the posse in its search for the missing driver.

Cherokee officials having received notification that an automobile loaded with liquor would pass in the vicinity of Franklin's gold mine early Tuesday morning, lay in wait for the car and halted it. The driver leaped from the automobile and escaped in the darkness.

Handcuffs were placed upon the wrists of Daniel. When the car did not start for the officers, however, the cuffs were removed and the prisoner was ordered to start the car. He thereupon seized a weapon, it is alleged, and began firing.

Bailiff Loggins fell dead and the sheriff dropped wounded. Guy Blackwell, son of the wounded sheriff, then covered Daniel with a pistol and forced him to throw up his hands and surrender.

SUSPECT IS SHOT RESISTING ARREST

Alexander City, Ala., May 24.—Roy Powell, who is charged with slaying Rev. J. P. East, a local minister, of the Poplar Springs community, Sunday night, was shot and probably fatally wounded today by officers who attempted to arrest him.

Leaders at Washington Pay Tribute to Grady

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN, Raleigh Hotel, Washington, May 24.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—While people of the north and south in Atlanta today renewed their reverence for the memory of Henry W. Grady with ceremonies befitting the spirit of a united America, which he was such an inspiring evangel, other notable men of the nation, of both the north and south, paused long enough in their executive and legislative labors in Washington to pay loving tribute to this illustrious Georgian, who as editor, orator and patriot, died while one of the truly great men of his time.

All day long telegrams and letters from many of America's foremost statesmen have poured into the office of The Atlanta Constitution in Washington.

From Secretary Hughes, Secretary of State Hughes sent by special messenger the following:

"Permit me to join in the tribute to the memory of Henry W. Grady, whose devoted service to his country and notable service in reminding our people can never be forgotten."

"CHARLES E. HUGHES."

Postmaster General.

The following telegram came from Postmaster General Clegg:

"Atlanta Constitution, Raleigh hotel, Washington, D. C.

"All Americans do well in cherishing the memory of Henry W. Grady, a great American. He lived always for a united America and strove constantly for a better understanding of the problems of all groups and sections. His life and work are a source of inspiration to all who go forward in unity of purpose is the aid of true Americans."

"WILLIAM H. HAYS."

Senator Lodge.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, leader of the republican majority, sent the following:

"Atlanta Constitution, Washington, D. C.

"I remember well the widespread sorrow which the premature death of Mr. Grady caused in the country. He was a brilliant man who, young as he was, had already won a national reputation and whose death the tribute of today is being paid to his memory."

"H. C. BORAH."

Senator Borah.

From Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, leader of the insurgent group in the senate, and one of the most notable orators in America, came the following:

"Henry W. Grady was one of the greatest men of his era—a genius in intellect and a statesman of singular power and vision. I regard his famous speech at the New England dinner as one of the greatest and remarkable displays of oratory in the whole history of our republic. But it was not only his oratory that made him remarkable in his revelation of patriotism and statesmanship. His comprehension of the republic included the entire people. His eyes were steadily on coming events and upon his forehead fell the dawn of the new day. I wish we had more of his type both south and north, east and west. Our country has great need of them."

"W. C. BORAH."

Senator Wadsworth.

The following wire came from Senator Wadsworth, of New York, chairman of the senate military committee:

"Washington, May 24.

"James A. Holloman, City. I rejoice that a tribute is being paid to Henry Grady. He was a pioneer of the new era, feeling and did a great work for his country."

"J. W. WADSWORTH, JR."

Senator Watson.

The following came from Senator Thomas A. Watson, of Georgia:

"Some of the greatest editorials ever published were written by Henry Grady. Some of the most brilliant reporting ever done was the work of Henry Grady. The memorial service I ever heard of made by Henry Grady. I am sure that America has produced a truer patriot than Henry Grady."

"THOMAS A. WATSON."

Senator Harris.

Senator Harris, of Georgia, sent the following message:

"Henry Grady was a great Georgian, great southerner and splendid American. His work in journalism and his life and work makes every one feel proud that he was a Georgian, and commends to his country his birthday is most appropriate."

"WILLIAM J. HARRIS."

Senator Underwood.

Senator Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, democratic leader, and former candidate for president, sent the following message:

"To The Constitution: Among the south's greatest men, Henry W. Grady stands in the forefront. He gave his life's work to the rebuilding of the south. Without the aid of him, he accomplished as much for the south as any man of his time. His name will always be a cherished memory to those who served."

"O. W. UNDERWOOD."

And the following from Senator Duncan M. Fletcher, of Florida:

"May 24, 1921.—Dear Mr. Holloman: It is well to pause today, lay aside our usual tasks, elevate our vision and seriously contemplate the mighty work and the exalted life of a great man."

"Henry W. Grady is a name which brings to mind a handsome, wholesome, forceful figure, a brilliant intellect, a rare gift of power of expression; a character pure and unimpaired; a heart full of human sympathy and love of country; ideals of citizenship and of government worthy to guide as highest standards for the coming years. Equipped in this manner, inspired by the true spirit and prompted by the hope, he illustrated the thought, the hope and the aspirations of the stricken south, and blazed the way for national understanding and a united country. To perpetuate his memory and preserve his place in our hearts is a sacred duty. To reflect upon his achievements for public good, prompt to higher aims and renewed hopes. To contemplate his example and study his counsel should lift us upward and press us forward toward that high plane of life which is the light of the just of God."

"DUNCAN M. FLETCHER."

Congressman Lee.

Following is a message from Representative Gordon Lee, of the seventh Georgia district, and the dean of the delegation:

"The life and work of Henry W. Grady has been a national inspiration. The new south stands as monuments to his patriotism and to the power and force and eloquence of his pen and voice."

"GORDON LEE."

Congressman Crisp.

The following is from Charles R. Crisp, of the third Georgia district:

trict, and a member of the ways and means committee.

"While en route to Boston to deliver his last memorable speech, Mr. Grady stopped off in Washington and spent the evening with my father in his rooms at the old Metropolitan hotel. It was my rare good fortune to be present, and I shall ever remember that meeting. They discussed the coming of the new south, the spirit of a united America, of which he was such an inspiring evangel, other notable men of the nation, of both the north and south, paused long enough in their executive and legislative labors in Washington to pay loving tribute to this illustrious Georgian, who as editor, orator and patriot, died while one of the truly great men of his time."

"I believe in the immortality of the soul, and I am sure that Mr. Grady's soul is now in the other shore for the last few decades, has realized that his fond hope was fulfilled, and that his speech in Boston did more to bring about a better understanding between the north and the south than any other earthly agency."

"All Georgians love, admire and revere the memory of Henry W. Grady. Atlanta and Georgia honor him and strive constantly to preserve the memory of this deceased statesman, orator, and patriot."

"C. R. CRISP."

Congressman Wise.

From Representative Wise of the Sixth Georgia district, the following:

"As a Georgian, I am honored by the fact that Georgia gave to the world a great man. His life and example are inspirations to every true American. His was a great work, the result of which no man can tell. With the same character and kind of love that the Master exhibited in giving his life for the people, Henry W. Grady truly lived for the north and the south might live together in peace, each with a full understanding of the great spirit of the other. As he loved the south, the north, he wanted the south to love each other. For this his life was given."

"J. W. WISE."

Congressman Wright.

And from Representative Wright of the Fourth Georgia, the following:

"Henry W. Grady has already taken his place in history not only as a great Georgian and one of the greatest Americans."

"He visualized the future and lived far in advance of the nation. While absolutely true to his section and loyal to the history and traditions of his beloved southland, he was the pioneer in expressing the sentiment of a re-united country after the struggle of the sixties."

"His tribute to the cotton plant is a classic and places the importance of the 'royal plant' upon a higher plane than it had ever occupied."

"His life was a benediction and his lofty ideals and sentiments an inspiration to all who read him."

"W. C. WRIGHT."

Judge Lankford.

From Judge Lankford, of the Eleventh Georgia, the following:

"Henry W. Grady is dead. He lived in one tenement of clay for a short span of years. This was only the beginning of the life he has since lived. He is now living and shall ever live in the hearts of the millions of Americans who have lived and shall live after him."

"His eyes were steadily on coming events and upon his forehead fell the dawn of the new day. I wish we had more of his type both south and north, east and west. Our country has great need of them."

"W. C. BORAH."

Confederate Veterans.

Representative Carl Vinson, one of the younger men of the Georgia delegation, sent the following tribute:

"By his powerful orations portraying the true life of the south and by his wonderful editorials, Henry W. Grady rendered an invaluable service to the nation in healing the breach and clearing away the misunderstandings of the civil war."

"He erected to himself a monument more enduring than any that could be built by hand in the realm of the living. His life and work are a source of inspiration to all who live forever—fresh, green and imperishable in the hearts of all Americans."

"CARL VINSON."

Congressman Bell.

From Congressman Thomas M. Bell, of the ninth Georgia district, came the following:

"Henry W. Grady was, in my judgment, one of the greatest men of his day and time. As an orator he has never been surpassed; as a citizen, he was an illuminating star in the firmament of humanity. His life and progress, strong in intellect, gracious to humanity, brilliant in expression, lovable in disposition, sincere in action, made him a man of his time and to his friends he had no equal in the entire country. His life and work are a source of inspiration to all who live forever—fresh, green and imperishable in the hearts of all Americans."

"THOMAS M. BELL."

Congressman Brand.

From Representative Charles H. Brand, of the eighth, came the following:

"I only wish to speak of Mr. Grady as a friend. I knew him as a public man during my day and he was a true friend and generation and more friends and generation."

"He was always the idol of his native state and after his death, his people were after him by a nation. Judge Lochrane, in an address to the alumni delivered at the University of Georgia many years ago, said of his friend that there was but one flower in the universe that he would pluck it to place on the grave of Thomas R. R. Cobb. This beautiful thought was in the hearts of thousands of his fellow countrymen when they heard of Mr. Grady's death."

"CHARLES H. BRAND."

THOUSANDS PAY HOMAGE TO GRADY

throng Tuesday afternoon, there to render homage, awaited the unveiling of the shaft and saw the folds of Old Glory fall slowly from it just as eagerly as if they had not for years passed and repassed the statue.

An Annual Event.

Tuesday afternoon the directors of the chamber of commerce, which organization proposed and planned for Grady day, passed resolutions asking that all Atlanta join in making this an annual event.

It seemed that the crowd Tuesday afternoon came more to worship than to celebrate, for although there was enthusiasm in the throng, it was not demonstrative enthusiasm. There were frequent flutters of applause, but the most of the large assembly seemed bent on giving heart-felt assent, not on applauding.

The least impressive part of the ceremony was the placing of the wreaths. The wreath-bearers, more than a hundred, circled the monument, maintaining the platform and were announced by Robert B. Troutman, vice president of the chamber. Leading the procession was Governor Hugh M. Dorsey, for the state of Georgia. Following him was R. L. O'Brien, representative of Georgia, and Mayor Key, for the city of Atlanta. Then came scores of other tributes—from Atlanta's civic and patriotic organizations, from sister states of Georgia, from the school children of the city, from individuals. Little Betty Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Black, Jr., pulled the cord that loosed the veiling folds. Rev. W. H. Glenn, formerly Grady's pastor, invoked divine favor on the exercises. Fred Houser led the singing of America. Rabbi David Marx delivered the invocation. The idea was to retreat ceremony by the Georgia Tech students and those from Georgia. The Georgia Tech students and those from Georgia. The Georgia Tech students and those from Georgia.

It was the idea of the chamber of commerce and other leading spirits in the move, that it should be a day of inspiration, in spirit as well as in manifestation. The idea was carried out; for it was truly a Grady day.

In the jostling, elbowing crowd was the restlessness of his energy; in the colorful clusters of flowers was the brightness of his life; in the written phrases; in the silent respect of the thousands was the love which came too soon to his kindly words. The sun, to use his own words, when it "poured the light of its own gold and purple," sank on a day's work well done, sank on a day's work well done, sank on a day's work well done.

Grouped in the throng that stood reverently there were hundreds of children, children of the great spirit of the other. As he loved the south, the north, he wanted the south to love each other. For this his life was given."

"J. W. WISE."

Congressman Wright.

And from Representative Wright of the Fourth Georgia, the following:

"Henry W. Grady has already taken his place in history not only as a great Georgian and one of the greatest Americans."

"He visualized the future and lived far in advance of the nation. While absolutely true to his section and loyal to the history and traditions of his beloved southland, he was the pioneer in expressing the sentiment of a re-united country after the struggle of the sixties."

"His tribute to the cotton plant is a classic and places the importance of the 'royal plant' upon a higher plane than it had ever occupied."

"His life was a benediction and his lofty ideals and sentiments an inspiration to all who read him."

"W. C. WRIGHT."

Judge Lankford.

From Judge Lankford, of the Eleventh Georgia, the following:

"Henry W. Grady is dead. He lived in one tenement of clay for a short span of years. This was only the beginning of the life he has since lived. He is now living and shall ever live in the hearts of the millions of Americans who have lived and shall live after him."

"His eyes were steadily on coming events and upon his forehead fell the dawn of the new day. I wish we had more of his type both south and north, east and west. Our country has great need of them."

"W. C. BORAH."

Confederate Veterans.

Representative Carl Vinson, one of the younger men of the Georgia delegation, sent the following tribute:

"By his powerful orations portraying the true life of the south and by his wonderful editorials, Henry W. Grady rendered an invaluable service to the nation in healing the breach and clearing away the misunderstandings of the civil war."

"He erected to himself a monument more enduring than any that could be built by hand in the realm of the living. His life and work are a source of inspiration to all who live forever—fresh, green and imperishable in the hearts of all Americans."

"CARL VINSON."

Congressman Bell.

From Congressman Thomas M. Bell, of the ninth Georgia district, came the following:

"Henry W. Grady was, in my judgment, one of the greatest men of his day and time. As an orator he has never been surpassed; as a citizen, he was an illuminating star in the firmament of humanity. His life and progress, strong in intellect, gracious to humanity, brilliant in expression, lovable in disposition, sincere in action, made him a man of his time and to his friends he had no equal in the entire country. His life and work are a source of inspiration to all who live forever—fresh, green and imperishable in the hearts of all Americans."

"THOMAS M. BELL."

Congressman Brand.

From Representative Charles H. Brand, of the eighth, came the following:

"I only wish to speak of Mr. Grady as a friend. I knew him as a public man during my day and he was a true friend and generation and more friends and generation."

"He was always the idol of his native state and after his death, his people were after him by a nation. Judge Lochrane, in an address to the alumni delivered at the University of Georgia many years ago, said of his friend that there was but one flower in the universe that he would pluck it to place on the grave of Thomas R. R. Cobb. This beautiful thought was in the hearts of thousands of his fellow countrymen when they heard of Mr. Grady's death."

"CHARLES H. BRAND."

throng Tuesday afternoon, there to render homage, awaited the unveiling of the shaft and saw the folds of Old Glory fall slowly from it just as eagerly as if they had not for years passed and repassed the statue.

An Annual Event.

Tuesday afternoon the directors of the chamber of commerce, which organization proposed and planned for Grady day, passed resolutions asking that all Atlanta join in making this an annual event.

It seemed that the crowd Tuesday afternoon came more to worship than to celebrate, for although there was enthusiasm in the throng, it was not demonstrative enthusiasm. There were frequent flutters of applause, but the most of the large assembly seemed bent on giving heart-felt assent, not on applauding.

The least impressive part of the ceremony was the placing of

Parade Is Most Picturesque Ever Witnessed in Atlanta

Headed by Lee Ashcraft and Mel R. Wilkinson, who were marching just behind the Tech band, the parade of guests of honor and the wreath-bearers of the Henry W. Grady exercises Tuesday was one of the most picturesque ever seen in Atlanta. The procession formed at the chamber of commerce a few moments after 4 o'clock and marched to the Grady monument in Marietta street.

Although not large in numbers, the parade was one of the most representative ever held in the south, virtually every organization of importance being present in proxy by one of its members bearing a tribute to the memory of the Georgia Tech student.

The Gray of the Confederacy was noted with the khaki of the world war. The khaki of the world war was noted with the khaki of the world war. The khaki of the world war was noted with the khaki of the world war.

Only delicious home made cakes will be given as prizes. Reservations already been donated. Reservations can be made by phoning Mrs. Wylie or Mrs. Stevens. The game will begin promptly at 10:30 and will last until 12:30 o'clock.

Honoring Mrs. Kramer.

A pretty compliment to Mrs. Ruth Brock Kramer, of Carrollton, who is spending a few days in the city, was Dan Rountree's dinner-party at the Capital City club. The beautifully appointed table was adorned with a low bowl of sweet peas, snapdragons and other summer flowers. Rose baskets filled with bonbons marked the places of the guests. Mrs. Kramer was smartly gowned in blue marquisette with a black picture hat. Covers were laid for Mrs. Kramer, Mrs. Lombard, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shaeffer, George Harrison and Dan Rountree.

Concert Given Westminister Church.

A concert will be given under the auspices of Committee No. 4, of the Westminister church on Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock by the Westminister Violin School and Orchestra. The following program will be given: March from Tannhauser (R. Wagner)—Orchestra. Violin—Serenade (G. Piere)—Mary Leffingwell. Reading (Selected). My Love to You (P. E. Fletcher)—Orchestra. Violin—Spanish Serenade (Chamade-Kreiser)—Miss Mary Phillips. Piano—Prelude in C Sharp minor (Bachmanoff)—Miss Norwood Key. Violin—Ballade et Polonaise (F. Vieuxtemps)—W. W. Leffingwell. Vocal (a) La Serenata (F. Posa)—(b) Ylang Ylang (J. L. Roedel)—Mrs. James B. Buchanan. Return of the Troops (R. Ellenberg)—Orchestra. There will be no admission but free will offering will be made.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Furmint (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Stir 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

THE WOMAN CITIZEN

How is it possible for the woman of today to meet the requirements of a home-maker, mother, and voter, with all her social and political activities, if she is to go on suffering the pain that comes from ailments peculiar to her sex? Check the malady at once by a conscientious treatment of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of backache, and dragging-down sensations, so common to women who suffer from female diseases.—(adv.)

The formal summer opening of the Piedmont Driving club last evening was featured by the usual accustomed brilliancy of detail and elegance which has heretofore marked these important social occasions, and was made still more noteworthy by the presence of distinguished visitors, headed by Melville E. Stone, ex-United States Senator, who was in Atlanta to commemorate the unveiling of the Henry Grady monument, and to take part in the exercises which marked the celebration of his birthday.

The election of officers took place at 7 o'clock, when the gentlemen of the club assembled for the business session which lasted until 8 o'clock, when the ladies joined the fashionable assemblage for the reception afterwards.

Club Decorations. Over 400 guests were in attendance to enjoy dinner and dancing. Two orchestras played from 7 to 11 o'clock, one stationed out on the terrace where dinner was served, and another played in the ballroom for dancing. Gladioli, in Dresden shades were used as the central decoration for the tables, with palms placed around the terrace to form an effective background. Lovely women, gowned in exquisite summer costumes, added a charm to the event which is always a very distinctive annual social affair.

Custody of Infant Is Given to Father After Legal Battle. Macon, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—Eva Grace Holmes, two months old daughter of Alonzo Hunt Holmes, and who became the center of a legal controversy for her possession twenty-four hours after her mother died, was today delivered into the custody of her father as the result of the settlement out of court of habeas corpus proceedings instituted against Dr. J. W. Duguid, a prominent Macon physician and grandfather of the child.

Ordinary Wiley signed the order for the transfer of the child to the father, who will be aided in caring for her by his mother, Mrs. John F. Holmes. The mother of the child died last Saturday and was buried Sunday. Yesterday Holmes went to the home of his wife's parents to get the child. Dr. Duguid is alleged to have threatened to kill him and refused to surrender possession of the child. The proceedings were instituted and the settlement today followed.

SUMTER CHAIRMAN SCORES FEE SYSTEM. Americus, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—Neill A. Ray, chairman of the board of commissioners of Sumter county, today gave out the statement attacking the "fee system" as applied to county officials, and favoring its complete abolition. "In hard times, the fee officers make the most of it," according to Ray, "and there is no way in the world to determine how much any of them takes out of the pockets of the taxpayers one way or another."

In favor of paying adequate salaries for all officers. The pay should be sufficient to attract competent men and to furnish them the incentive to fill their office capably and to do their duty intelligently, so that they might go before the voters and ask for re-election on their records in office. Some argue that sheriff on a salary basis would not do his duty as under the fee system. I think the voters would take care of that."

QUIET IS REPORTED AFTER EGYPT RIOTS

Alexandria, Egypt, May 24.—Quiet prevailed here last night after the serious rioting of Sunday night and Monday morning, the curfew order being well observed.

The casualties in the rioting were officially reported today as twelve Europeans and 36 natives killed, and 191 persons were wounded.

The banks, the bourse and the merchants' shops were reopened today, but the street cars are not yet running.

During the disorders yesterday bands of the lower strata of the city's population robbed a number of foreigners.

It is considered by officials here that the native movement was more anti-Greek than one against Europeans generally.

ELEVEN MORE REPORTED DEAD.

London, May 24.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Cairo says there has been a slight recurrence of the trouble in Alexandria and that a demonstration has now begun in the provinces.

The message adds that the casualty lists show eleven more Egyptians dead.

NUMBER ARRESTED.

Cairo, Egypt, May 24.—Quiet has been restored in Alexandria after the serious rioting of Sunday. A number of persons have been arrested and several who engaged in the riots, which resulted in the deaths of many Europeans and natives, have been flogged at police headquarters.

Warnings have been issued that the peaceable inhabitants of the city must in future go to their homes at the first sign of a demonstration. They are told that unless they heed this warning they must take the consequences, as the police intend to take "very energetic measures" against people who engage in disorders.

SELF-IMPOSED FAST RESULTS IN DEATH

Selma, Iowa, May 24.—Walter Oliver, son of a wealthy farmer, died yesterday on the sixtieth day of a self-imposed fast.

Oliver was a conscientious objector and was sent to federal penitentiary when he refused to don a uniform at Camp Dodge. Upon his return to his home here he became a recluse and later entered into a fast, declaring "I will not take food until the Lord pleases me."

NEW BANK URGED FOR AUSTRIA'S AID

London, May 21.—Liquidation of the Bank of Austria-Hungary and its reorganization into a powerful bank of issue, over which the league of nations shall hold dictatorial powers, are the basic recommendations of a special committee which has been investigating Austria's economic and financial situation.

The report declares that Austria can be stabilized if prompt and drastic financial reorganization is sanctioned by the league. It urges outside relief while the nation's currency is being readjusted, and explains that the establishment of the proposed bank, which would be the depository for Austria's guarantees of loans, would facilitate the granting of credits and release Austrian capital.

It is proposed that the commission governing the bank's affairs shall be composed half of Austrians and half of allied experts.

The capital would be 100,000,000 francs, and the institution would have entire charge of the country's currency for twenty-five years. Provisions for the maintenance of the gold standard, the restoration of credit, and the issuance of new paper money, which would convert the present debased currency into a stable issue, are also included in the scheme.

As guarantees, the bank would hold the customs receipts, the receipts from the tobacco and forest monopolies, and a 4 per cent preferred mortgage on all private real estate. The government would guarantee realization on its internal resources by a second mortgage on private property of 2 per cent.

Under this scheme the bank would be entirely independent of the government, working in conjunction and under the control of a commission consisting of three Austrians and three members of the financial committee of the league of nations. This commission will hold the final decision in all matters.

The report recommends that after the bank has been established and the currency deflation has begun, the government shall abolish control of subsidize, raise its transport, telephone and telegraph rates, and impose new taxes, thus balancing the budget.

The investigation also advocates

PROBERS OF WRECK ABANDON THEORY OF THEFT CAUSE

Paducah, Ky., May 24.—Authorized today temporarily abandoned the theory that the attempt to wreck the Illinois Central Louisville-New Orleans last passenger train near here early yesterday for the purpose of robbery, and are investigating with the view of determining whether discharged workmen were responsible. The theory has been advanced that disgruntled former employees might have pulled the spikes and angle base from the track. The wire connections were left intact. Had these been removed, it was pointed out, the block system would have displayed a warning signal.

Bloodhounds yesterday failed in every effort to pick up a trail that might disclose the identity of those responsible for the wreck.

"The Faith Healer."

(At the Lyric.)

"The Faith Healer" is here! This new George Melford Paramount production has scored a triumph at the Lyric theater this week.

The story concerns a young shepherd who goes forth to heal the sick. At his greatest hour of triumph he falls in love with a beautiful girl but as he yields to his passion, he feels a loss of his spiritual powers. After many dramatic incidents, the healer realizes that God does not deny spiritual power to men and instantly his power to heal is restored.

"The Lamplighter."

(At the Lyric.)

Final showings of "The Lamplighter," Maria Susanna Cummins' beautiful story which has been produced as a photoplay, are announced for today by the Lyric Theater. Miss Mason has achieved a very positive hit here in this photoplay, and it is to be regretted that the engagements of this limited run of a hearty welcome always by local audiences.

SUPPLIES ARE GIVEN DESTITUTE MINERS

Birmingham, Ala., May 24.—More than 2,000 pounds of coal and 6,225 pounds of wheat are being distributed today among destitute miners in the coal fields of the state by the Alabama Federation of Labor. This food was supplied to 1,220 families, the largest contingent yet sent to the needy by the federation.

PANAMA EMISSARIES TO LAND AT ORLEANS

Washington, May 24.—A radio dispatch to the Panama emigration today said that because of an accident to her boiler, the steamer Carriaco, which is bringing the Panamanian emissaries to Washington in connection with the Panama-Costa Rica boundary dispute, would go to New Orleans instead of Key West.

New York, May 24.—An unsettled

New York, May 24.—An unsettled opening was followed by an advance in the cotton market today accompanied by talk of probable bullish private advance and a crop condition figures during the next few days. October contracts sold up from 13.05 to 13.35 and closed at 13.35, with the general market closing very steady at a net advance of 28 points to 29 points.

The opening irregularly was due to the unexpected appearance of June notices representing 3,800 bales. About twenty of these notices were issued against cotton that had been taken up by May contracts yesterday and the balance was supposed to be against June liquidation.

On Tuesday a program thorough in each detail was observed beginning with the completion of registration in the Auditorium. The opening session was at 10 o'clock in the morning when a comprehensive discourse on "Selling Your Product" was given by J. K. Harrison of Philadelphia. At noon J. W. Beattie, of Hollywood, Cal., gave the address on "The Modern Methods of the Modern Photographer."

A demonstration of artificial lighting was the feature of Tuesday afternoon's session. Will H. Towles, of Washington, D. C., conducted the lighting, which was not open to the public.

An interesting program has been arranged for Wednesday. One of the outstanding social events will be the dinner, dance and cabaret tendered the guests in the evening.

MEETING CALLED TO CLEAR MEXICO OF SOVIET AGENTS; SEVERAL DEPORTED

Mexico City, May 24.—The Obregon government has decided to clear the country of all bolshevik agents and sympathizers.

Twelve agents were recently expelled, several American socialists, characterized as "provokers of the scandalous manifestations at Tampico last Sunday," have been forced to leave the country, and Jose Rubio, a Spaniard, and Manuel Pailey, a Russian, have been arrested at Monterey.

President Obregon declared Tuesday that "no foreigners can promote bolshevism in Mexico, and denied that the government supported any bolshevistic ideas on its own part."

A few more agents are believed to be scattered through the country, and these will be expelled whenever they are found.

Coloche, May 24.—The four British battalions ordered to Silesia by the war department are preparing to leave the country and be replaced here by French troops.

SILESIA QUESTION BY A. E. JOHNSON, United News Staff Correspondent.

London, May 24.—Solution of the Silesia question is fundamentally rests in Berlin, and it is entirely up to the Germans what the outcome of the present Silesia situation will be. This is the attitude of Great Britain concerning the present situation in Silesia.

The British are firm in their intention of discouraging any attempt on the part of German insurgents to penetrate Silesia and conquer the industrial towns of Silesia.

Such an eventuality is considered to be of the utmost danger to the peace of Europe.

Meanwhile, work has been received here that Polish insurgents working in the Katowice district have been shut off the water supply of Katowice and 150,000 of the population are reported to be in a precarious condition as a result.

AMERICAN RESCUE WORKERS CONVENE IN ATLANTA TODAY

The American territorial field council of the American Rescue workers will begin today. On Tuesday evening, an open air service will be held at the Wesley Memorial church, led by General James W. Duffin.

On Thursday and Friday evening services will be conducted at the church, at which Brigadier General G. A. Cridler will preach the evening of the general mass meeting will follow.

Brooklyn Dry Agents, Laid Off, Won't Return To Prosecute Cases

New York, May 24.—There was no work of the entire Brooklyn force of Volstead law enforcement agents, who were laid off and refused to return to work, and refused to return to work, and refused to return to work.

Subsequently, 500 Brooklyn persons accused of bootlegging and other Volstead crimes, will go to court, "the government not being prepared to prosecute."

STUCHELL TO DELIVER MEMORIAL ADDRESS

Rev. William Torrence Stuchell, pastor of Central Congregational church, will be the principal speaker at the memorial day exercises to be held at the National cemetery in Marietta on May 30, under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic. Preceding the exercises in the cemetery a large parade will be held.

The procession will be formed in Marietta, under direction of Adjutant Thomas J. Hartney, of the National cemetery, as chief marshal, on Washington avenue. A chaplain John A. Randolph, U. S. will deliver the invocation.

The parade will commence at 10:40 o'clock promptly. Charles R. Hawkins, chairman of the general memorial committee, has requested that all bodies to be in the line of march be on hand early.

SENATE NEWBERRY QUIZ OPENS FRIDAY

Committee on Privileges Decides on Probe—Newberry Spent Over the Amount Listed, Asserts Ford Counsel.

Washington, May 24.—The senate committee on privileges and elections has decided to proceed with its investigation of the Ford-Newberry election contest.

Decision was reached Tuesday, after the committee had listened to Alfred Lucking, attorney for Ford, Lucking declared he could show that Newberry, during his campaign for the senate, expended money in excess of the amount that had been reported.

"Instead of $176,000, as reported by Newberry's manager, we can show that two or three times that amount was spent," Lucking declared.

Lucking argued that the decision of the supreme court, freeing Newberry from the penalties of criminal charges, did not prove his right to a seat in the senate.

The first session of the committee will be held Friday. Counsel for Ford and Newberry will be heard.

Funeral Services For E. C. McDaniel Conducted Tuesday

Funeral services for E. C. McDaniel, aged 70, one of Gwinnett county's best-known and most beloved citizens, were held Monday night at Liberty Methodist church, of which he had been a member since 1884. Rev. Charles Singleton, the pastor, and Rev. J. P. McConnell officiating.

McDaniel, who was born in Gwinnett county, and since 1872, has been a planter near Norcross, was a member of one of Georgia's best-known families. He was the father of City Policeman J. E. McDaniel, and had other relatives in this city.

McDaniel had been in declining health for the past few weeks. His death occurred late Saturday afternoon, while he was sitting in a chair.

Surviving Mr. McDaniel are his wife, Mrs. Lou McDaniel; a brother, Rob McDaniel, of Centerville, Ga.; a sister, Mrs. Sarah Jordan, of Norcross; two sons, Mr. R. V. McDaniel, of Atlanta, and Mr. R. V. McDaniel, of Atlanta, and the following sons: J. B. McDaniel, of Tucker, Ga.; W. C. McDaniel, of Tucker, Ga.; and W. C. McDaniel, of Tucker, Ga.
